

DSCC Launches GOPonAbortion.com On Dobbs Anniversary

On the third anniversary of the Dobbs ruling that overturned Roe v. Wade, GOPonAbortion.com highlights Republican Senate candidates' records supporting dangerous abortion bans

Today, three years after the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee (DSCC) is launching GOPonAbortion.com to hold GOP Senate candidates accountable for their records opposing women's reproductive freedom.

The site, which was first released in 2022, is being re-launched today to set the record straight on Republican Senate candidates running this campaign cycle. Thom Tillis, Susan Collins, and Senate Republicans across the country have attacked women's reproductive health care, from threatening access to IVF treatments to backing abortion bans without exceptions, and voters will hold them accountable for it in 2026.

From Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee spokesperson Maeve Coyle:

“Republican Senate candidates have long records of supporting dangerous abortion bans that make it clear they will stop at nothing to continue rolling back women’s freedom to make our own health care decisions. This website underscores that every Republican Senate candidate poses a direct threat to women’s rights, and the GOP’s agenda to ban abortion nationwide puts their Senate majority at risk in 2026.”
