

Chairman Tim Scott Announces NRSC Vice Chairs

Blackburn, Budd, Britt, Ricketts, and Banks to serve as Vice Chairs to defend and expand the Republican Senate Majority

WASHINGTON, DC - U.S. Senator and National Republican Senatorial Committee (NRSC) Chairman Tim Scott announced today a team of Vice Chairs to serve alongside him to grow and expand the Republican U.S. Senate majority.

U.S. Senator Marsha Blackburn (R-TN), U.S. Senator Ted Budd (R-NC), U.S. Senator Katie Britt (R-AL), U.S. Senator Pete Ricketts (R-NE), and U.S. Senator-elect Jim Banks (R-IN) will serve as Vice Chairs for the NRSC. The five will work with U.S. Senator Scott to deliver unity, transparency, and accountability for the committee as the team continues to form.

"Republicans are united around advancing President Donald J. Trump's agenda and defending our U.S. Senate majority," said U.S. Senator and NRSC Chairman Tim Scott. "There is too much at stake to do this alone, so I'm thankful to my colleagues for stepping up to serve as Vice Chairs to the NRSC. Raising the resources, expanding the map, and building the organization to win is going to be an all hands on deck task."

"President Donald J. Trump's agenda requires a unified Republican U.S. Senate, and I look forward to working with Senator Tim Scott to deliver for the American people," said U.S. Senator Marsha Blackburn. "Together, we will not only advance Donald Trump's agenda, but we will secure a Republican Senate majority for years to come."

Senator Ted Budd: "Republicans are unified to advance President Donald J. Trump's agenda, deliver on our promises to the American people, and expand and grow our majority in 2026," said U.S. Senator Ted Budd. "I look forward to working with Senator Tim Scott to build the team necessary to win in the midterms."

"Senate Republicans are ready to get to work! The American people delivered the White House and the Senate majority because we need to secure the border, turn our economy around, and preserve the American Dream for our kids," said U.S. Senator Katie Britt. "Fighting alongside President Trump, four years of a Republican Senate majority is critical to fulfilling this mandate. I'm excited to work with Senator Tim Scott to protect and build upon the success we had on November 5."

"President Donald Trump's agenda for our country requires a strong Senate majority," said U.S. Senator Pete Ricketts. "I'm eager to work with Senator Tim Scott at the NRSC to protect and grow that majority. Working together, a unified Republican Congress and the Trump administration will unleash a generation of prosperity for the American people."

"I look forward to teaming up with Senator Tim Scott and President Donald J. Trump to defend and expand our Senate majority," said U.S. Senator-elect Jim Banks. "I'm going to hit the ground running to restore America's standing on the world stage, secure our border, get our economy back on track, and make sure that Senate Republicans have a majority for President Trump's entire second term."