

Chip
for congress

One thing.

One single thing.

I want Republicans in Congress to name one thing that we have done collectively to make your life better since we took back the House in January.

This week, I stood on the House floor and challenged my colleagues to come down to the floor and explain to me one material, meaningful, significant thing that the Republican majority has done for the American people.

For the life of me, I do not understand how you can go through the trouble of campaigning, raising money, going to events, talking to people, coming to Washington as a member of a party that is supposed to stand for something... and then do nothing.

I'm livid, and you should be too.

I need you to help me apply pressure and make them actually get off their butts and do something meaningful for the country.

Tell Republican Leadership ENOUGH

Our voters watch, wondering when this body – the people's House – will stand up in defense of them.

I'm sick and tired of it.

I didn't come here to act like democrats.

I didn't come here to sit and watch our country fall apart.

When are we going to do what we said we would do?
