

Dear Colleague:

I write to inform you that we have reached an agreement with the Majority with respect to the remaining standing committee ratios for the 118th Congress. These ratios are consistent with an inversion of those from the prior Congress where Democrats held a similarly sized majority, notwithstanding a few changes in overall committee size.

Most notably, the ratios for the Committees on Armed Services, Budget, Foreign Affairs, Judiciary and Small Business are a direct inversion from the 117th Congress. The Committee on Oversight and Accountability will grow by one seat on both sides of the aisle. The Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure will decrease proportionally by two seats each, while the Committee on Education and the Workforce will decrease proportionally by four seats on both sides of the aisle.

It is my expectation that no returning member of the House Democratic Caucus will involuntarily lose a seat related to an existing committee assignment, except for the House Committee on Ways and Means, as previously anticipated. There will be multiple openings on all non-exclusive committees, with the likely exception of the Judiciary Committee and the House Committee on Education and the Workforce.

- 28 Majority seats and 24 Minority seats on the House Committee on Agriculture.
- 34 Majority seats and 27 Minority seats on the House Committee on Appropriations.
- 31 Majority seats and 28 Minority seats on the House Committee on Armed Services.
- 21 Majority seats and 16 Minority seats on the House Committee on Budget.
- 25 Majority seats and 20 Minority seats on the House Committee on Education and the Workforce.
- 29 Majority seats and 23 Minority seats on the House Committee on Energy and Commerce.
- 29 Majority seats and 23 Minority seats on the House Committee on Financial Services.
- 27 Majority seats and 24 Minority seats on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs.
- 18 Majority seats and 15 Minority seats on the House Committee on Homeland Security.
- 25 Majority seats and 19 Minority seats on the House Committee on the Judiciary.
- 25 Majority seats and 20 Minority seats on the House Committee on Natural Resources.
- 26 Majority seats and 21 Minority seats on the House Committee on Oversight and Accountability.
- 22 Majority seats and 18 Minority seats on the House Committee on Science, Space and Technology.
- 15 Majority seats and 12 Minority seats on the House Committee on Small Business.
- 35 Majority seats and 30 Minority seats on the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure.
- 14 Majority seats and 11 Minority seats on the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs.
- 25 Majority seats and 18 Minority seats on the House Committee on Ways and Means.

As we prepare to return to Washington and resume our work to put People Over Politics and deliver for everyday Americans, I thank Steering and Policy Co-Chairs Dan Kildee, Barbara Lee and Debbie Wasserman Schultz for all of the work that they have done to set House Democrats up for success in the 118th Congress. I also extend my deepest gratitude to every Member of our Caucus for your collaboration, communication and counsel throughout this process, which we anticipate completing over the next week.
